1.) Adjacency list would work best here as no web page will connect to every other web page.
2.) Adjacency matrix works best here as cities are connected to other US cities, through hubs of airports to smaller cities.
3.) Adjacency matrix works best as some people may watch a lot of movies, but no one will watch every single movie. It's also important that people are not connected to other people, and the same goes with movies.